GOD USES LOCKED DOORS TO HELP US GROW IN FAITH

This year's celebration of Easter was unlike any other. Here at Holy Family, like many parishes around the world, there was a somewhat muted experience. Most of us spent Easter either alone or with a few family members, tuning in to our online worship service and perhaps communicating with family members over Zoom. Many of us are carrying deep sorrow, worry, and concern about the health and wellness of our family members, friends and neighbors. Despite our difficult and current circumstances of life, there is much theological insight to be gleaned from a muted Easter.

The story of Christ's resurrection and other stories in the Bible are filled with closed doors. It is a common phrase in the resurrection narratives: "the doors being shut for fear of the Jews." It led them all to hide behind closed doors. God may have closed the door temporarily, but it doesn't mean that it will stay closed forever. Sometimes God may want to redirect us to something better or something He feels we need more of at that moment. We are to trust God in those moments and wait to see where He leads us and what new doors may open. A closed door may be God's way of refocusing our attention toward Him.

Doors! We encounter them each and every day of our lives. It is practically impossible to go throughout the day without walking through a door. Some doors are closed, which means we must reach down, turn the doorknob, and open the door before walking through it. Some doors are locked, which requires us to have the key if we want to enter through the passageway. The same situation applies to the spiritual realm, and it can be used symbolically, referring to life's opportunities and blessings. There are times we try and try to accomplish something, taking advantage of an opportunity, but it doesn't work out. No matter what we do, it seems the door is closed on us. We can't get through!

In this weekend's gospel, the disciple Thomas refused to believe that Jesus had come back to life until he personally saw him and touched his fatal wounds. Jesus then appeared in the living flesh to Thomas and the disciples and submitted to a probing physical examination. Jesus came among the fearful disciples and said, "Peace be with you." This peace was not so much a state of mind as it was a state of being. This peace, which Jesus won for the disciples outside the doors of their hearts, is now brought inside their hearts.

When Jesus unlocked the doors of the disciples' hearts, they became emboldened to him and stepped outside of their comfort zones, came out from behind their locked doors to fearlessly and courageously proclaim the Gospel to all who were lost. We all have our locked doors of desperation and futility. I wonder what is being unlocked and opened for you and me today and during this Easter Season. Frustration and closed doors are God's agent of change. God uses locked doors to help us grow in faith. Locked doors become God's agents of change.

Jesus gives us his peace, his breath, his life, and then sends us out. What locked door in our heart needs to be opened? Is it the door of fear or the lack of faith, the door of worry or some kind of dependency, or the door of un-forgiveness of yourself or others who hurt you...? Whatever it is, the Risen Lord brings freedom and new life. Jesus brings us peace, offers us peace, and embodies peace. Jesus shows up bringing us new life, offering us life, and embodying life. New life and peace are the resurrection reality. He propelled them out the doors of that room to tell others so they, too, can be released from the grip of fear. Jesus gave his disciples keys to unlock the doors of the hearts of others. "As the Father has sent me, I am sending you." And with that he breathed on them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit." Faith points us to an initial opening of our heart and mind. Faith is our small, but necessary, "yes" to every new change we encounter.

When disappointment in the form of a closed door faces us, let us take the time to pray about it. What is God trying to tell us by closing this door? Is He trying to protect us? Redirect us? Closed doors may be a personal blessing. Let us ask God to reveal that blessing to us:

Lord, this day I will come to certain doors that are locked. May I remember this day that there is a key to every situation, a solution to every problem. May I never surrender to one of life's locked doors. Instead, may I pray until I find the right key and the door be opened. You know exactly what we need and what doors we need to open or enter. Show us those doors. Make clear Your will and Your path for us. Guard us from selfishness and pride. Help us to walk through the door of faith, and trust You with every detail of our lives. Nothing will give us more pleasure than to know we are walking with You, giving You glory in everything we do. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Preparing for Next Week...

Watch our weekly SCC reflection @ <https://www.youtube.com/user/HFIInverness/> videos. Click on reflections for Sunday Readings for 4-26-20 and listen to Sue Geegan, Director of Human Concerns, reflect on the readings.

Third Sunday of Easter

1. In Acts, Peter reminds the Israelites of the “mighty deeds, wonders, and signs” that they have witnessed. What have you witnessed that has strengthened your faith?
2. In our second reading, Peter urges us to conduct ourselves with reverence because of the blood by which we were ransomed. How do we demonstrate this reverence?
3. On the road to Emmaus, at first, the two disciples did not recognize Jesus. Why didn't they see Him? Does this mimic the times we don't recognize Him?
4. In what ways do we feel different when we do recognize that Jesus is walking with us?
5. The disciples finally recognized Jesus through “the breaking of bread.” How has the Eucharistic experience made Jesus known to you?

SOCIAL JUSTICE QUESTION

Do you feel called to be someone's “roadmap”? Does anything keep you from following through?

Providing For Our Family's Future Campaign

Since mid-March, the beginning of the shelter in place restrictions, our focus has been on continuing parish operations from a distance. Our staff is working from home, our Masses are being recorded weekly and posted for your virtual participation, and we have taken significant steps to not only manage but reduce our costs. As you all know, we are living in a fluid, and previously uncharted, environment and our efforts will continue to stay focused on reaching out to and serving our parishioners, managing internal costs and preparing for the day we will be together again. Consequently, we have placed a temporary hold on many of the projects outlined in our Campaign to allow us to react as needed to the current situation.

We thank you again for your commitment to the success of our Campaign during this pledge redemption phase. We will keep you advised of our plans and the initiation of the proposed programs as soon as we begin resuming our "normal" activities.

The Human Concerns Community...

offers assistance with life's basic needs, spiritual and emotional support as well as additional resources with partners in our community while promoting mercy and justice by putting our faith into action.

WINGS is asking for some help in attaining the supplies that we need in order to continue providing for over 100 families within our program. Due to the current COVID-19 situation, many of our donation drives have been cancelled by groups that are not able to meet right now. We could use your help with anything that you could share or buy for us. I am attaching our critical needs list as well as directions on how to find our list on Amazon.

How to find the WINGS Program List on AmazonSmile.

- Hover over "Account and Lists" on the top right of your home page
- Click on AmazonSmiles Charity Lists, under Your Lists
- Scroll down to "Browse by Cause" and search WINGS Program
- Click on our logo
- Add items you want to purchase to your cart and choose "WINGS Program Gift Registry Address" as your shipping address

Critical Needs

Peanut butter and jelly, parmesan cheese, BBQ sauce, plain boxed pasta, diced tomatoes, tomato paste and sauce, oatmeal, 13 gal garbage bags and larger, mac and cheese, plain rice, flavored pasta and sides, cereal, oatmeal, coffee, canned soup, ketchup, canned pasta, disposable plates, cups, utensils, body wash and lotion, deodorant, hand sanitizer, toilet bowl cleaner, bleach/floor cleaner, pull up diapers – all sizes up to lg and xlg, and sponges.

To drop off items purchased elsewhere go to:

606 W. Golf Rd, Mount Prospect 60056. We are near Golf and 83.

We are housed in the parsonage of a church named Lutheran Church of Martha and Mary. When you pull into their parking lot you will see a red house (on the left) just past the church and our door is up by the screened porch. Please make sure to schedule a date and time with Tabitha, so that she can make sure someone is there to meet you when you arrive.

Her hours are generally Tuesday and Friday from 7:30-3:30, Thursday from 10-7, and Saturday from 10-4.
